Need for Water Supply Other Than the River Seen in Next 5 Years

Boroughs Association Told Of Problems Presented By Expansion Here

Lower Bucks County communities will have to look for water from sources other than the Delaware River within the next few years because of the heavy industrialization of the area, members of the Bucks County Boroughs Association were told last night.

Franklin C. Wood, executive director of the Bucks County Planning Commission, told the group water will have to be obtained from such sources as the Neshaminy Creek and from underground.

In Perhaps Five Years

Wood, a resident of Langhorne, was guest speaker at the association's dinner at Pennsbury Inn.

He told of the anticipated need for other sources of water in response to a question from Francis J. Byers, association president, who expressed the same opinion. Byers said he felt the need for water from other sources would come within the next five years.

Byers, who presided at the meeting, introduced the speaker.

Fourteen of the county's 22 boroughs were represented at the meeting, which was attended by 91 persons.

Expansion Tremendous

Emphasizing the need for careful planning, in view of the area's rapid growth, Wood said: "A reasonably conservative estimate would be that a total of 30,000 single-family lots have either come into residential use since 1950 or are being proposed for such use in the near future."

Showing his audience a number of color-picture slides of areas built up without careful planning, Wood outlined the pitfalls into which residential areas can become entangled by haphazard methods.

He showed pictures of pools of water in backyards where there had been improper drainage, dangerous intersections with view obstructed by trees, and many other

Anyway, That's What The Motorist Said

DOYLESTOWN, A Croydon man produced the "original" alibi in Bucks County Criminal court when he went on trial on a charge of driving while drunk on Oct. 26th on Route 13, near Croydon. The trial was held before President Judge Hiram H. Keller.

John Waples, assistant superintendent on a pig farm near Burlington, N. J.—the defendant—told the court and jury, on the witness stand, that the cops, who arrested him were mistaken about smelling alcohol on his breath.

He said that he had mixed penicillin and "canned heat" together to smear on his body to keep off the flies and other bugs that bothered him at the pig farm. "That was what they smelled," he said, "not alcohol." This defense, the court admitted after the trial, is "an original."

Waples had an accident and his car overturned, when he was arrested by Bristol twp. police. He was convicted and sentenced to three to 23 months in Bucks County prison.

LEVITTOWN, Nov. 26 — Two hundred and fifty acres of Levittown will be industrial sites, William J. Levitt, president of Levitt & Sons, Inc., announced yesterday. The industries will be located between U. S. Route 13 and the Pennsylvania Railroad main line, he said.

"When that survey is made, the people will be made aware of its contents, and will decide from there," he said.

"We have no control over it. It's entirely a matter for the people to decide."

"We don't want anything here that isn't for the good of everybody," Levitt said. "If the report shows that it would make sense to incorporate, we will support incorporation. If it shows that there is nothing to be gained by incorporation, that would end it."

Anyway, That's What The Motorist Said

DOYLESTOWN, A Croydon man produced the "original" alibi in Bucks County Criminal court when he went on trial on a charge of driving while drunk on Oct. 26th on Route 13, near Croydon. The trial was held before President Judge Hiram H. Keller.

John Waples, assistant superintendent on a pig farm near Burlington, N. J.—the defendant—told the court and jury, on the witness stand, that the cops, who arrested him were mistaken about smelling alcohol on his breath.

He said that he had mixed penicillin and "canned heat" together to smear on his body to keep off the flies and other bugs that bothered him at the pig farm. "That was what they smelled," he said, "not alcohol."

This defense, the court admitted after the trial, is "an original."

Waples had an accident and his car overturned, when he was arrested by Bristol twp. police. He was convicted and sentenced to three to 23 months in Bucks County prison.

AT THE GRAND

"The Miracle of Our Lady of Fatima," Warner Bros.' dramatic picturization of the miracle which occurred 35 years ago in a little Portuguese town, opens today at the Grand Theatre for three days.

Filmed in color by WarnerColor, the story concerns three little shepherd children who in 1917 reported that a vision had appeared before them and had foretold the coming of events which were to later shape the destiny of the world. Shortly after, a series of miracles occurred at Fatima which gained international attention. After years of careful investigation, the Bishop of Leira-Fatima released a pastoral letter stating that the revelations at Fatima were deemed worthy of belief.

Gilbert Roland stars in "The Miracle of Our Lady of Fatima," directed by John Braham.

THANKSGIVING DAY

At this Thanksgiving time there is a tendency to compare the lot of the Pilgrims, who instituted the day, with those of the present generation, much to the advantage of the latter.

The Pilgrims had few material blessings for which to give thanks. Simple but sufficient fare, at least temporary safety from Indian attack, and shelter against the approaching winter.

While these were included in their prayers of thanksgiving, what they were grateful for, and for which they returned thanks to their God, was the freedom they had gained in a new land, which later was to be incorporated in the Declaration of Independence — life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

In these times of national and international stress there should be no faltering in the observance of the day, no lessening in the nation's prayers of praise and thanksgiving. Americans still live in a free land, where opportunity is everybody's right, a nation not only sufficient unto itself but able, because it is free, to extend a helping hand around the world.

As for material blessings, no people under the sun has had so much so easily attained.

All this Americans owe to the infinite goodness of the Divine Creator, who has set America apart as leader in a world which needs leadership as never before. On the occasion of this annual observance of Thanksgiving Day there should be a renewal of faith in the Creator, who has led this nation through the vicissitudes of changing times, to a position in the world never before attained by any people, because freedom has been America's heritage and still endures.

INNOCENTS ABROAD?

The State Department is trying to locate 17 Americans who allegedly attended the communist-sponsored "Peace Conference of the Asian and Pacific Regions" in Peiping October 2-12. It wants to ask them whether they attended and, if so, how they got there.

Did they violate passport regulations? The State Department announced before the rally that it would issue no passports to Americans to attend. In fact, a ban on passports to Iron Curtain countries has been in effect for the last six months.

China, as those who attended the Peiping conference were well aware, is fighting American and other forces in the Korean war. The 17 Americans, if the Red radio told the truth in saying they attended, were in effect giving aid and comfort to their country's enemy in a shooting war. But they apparently face nothing more than possible punishment for infraction of passport regulations.

The Peiping conference issued a number of resolutions in which the United States was accused of bacteriological warfare, massacre of war prisoners and aggression against the Korean people.

The Thanksgiving table our forefathers set up those many years ago was an oasis in a desert of near-starvation days. An immigrant people, newly arrived and untrained for the needs of this wild continent, needed help to even exist. This they received from their friendly Indian neighbors.

The meaning of those early times is sometimes lost in the dazzling brilliance of our present wealth. We forget that all this is not merely the product of our labors, but also the result of the kindly benevolence of our Lord. Let us then celebrate our good fortune with humility, vowing to use His Light as our beacon.

The Thanksgiving table our forefathers set up those many years ago was an oasis in a desert of near-starvation days. An immigrant people, newly arrived and untrained for the needs of this wild continent, needed help to even exist. This they received from their friendly Indian neighbors.

The meaning of those early times is sometimes lost in the dazzling brilliance of our present wealth. We forget that all this is not merely the product of our labors, but also the result of the kindly benevolence of our Lord. Let us then celebrate our good fortune with humility, vowing to use His Light as our beacon.

Lots and lots of people in and around Bradford, Pa., know the McDermott sisters.

Both Marilyn and Beverly Ann were born in Bradford, went to Bradford High School, and now have jobs that keep them in close touch with the community.

Marilyn, a registered nurse, is assistant night supervisor at Bradford Hospital. Beverly Ann is a Bell Telephone operator. For a year and a half, she has been helping speed telephone calls... essential calls, every-day calls, all kinds of calls... for her friends and neighbors.

To Beverly Ann, all these calls are important. Like other telephone people, she does her level best to put them all through promptly. It is this spirit of service to the community... this knowledge of the community's dependence on telephone service... that makes telephone people as devoted to their work as nurses and mailmen, physicians and firemen!

NEWS OF THE LEVITTOWN COMMUNITY

Facts on Incorporation Proposal Available--Bair

Schools Superintendent Is Speaker at Levittown Civic Ass'n Parley

By Staff Reporter

TULLYTOWN, Nov. 26 — The "pro and con" facts on the proposed incorporation of Levittown are already available, Medill Bair, regional superintendent of Pennsylvania Schools, told a special meeting of the Levittown Civic Association last night in the Tullytown fire station.

He made the statement after Alex Pollett, associated with a public relations firm serving, Levitt & Sons, Inc., said a survey being made by the Institute of Local and State Government of the University of Pennsylvania, to be completed in two to five months, "will show all aspects of incorporation."

"The facts are already there," Bair said. "It's just a matter of a little arithmetic, and anyone of you can do it." Information that is already available, he said, includes the cost of building schools, the number of school-age children in Levittown, and the cost of educating them. He said the latter figure is currently $294 per pupil per year in Falls twp.

He cited tax valuations in his township, which total $21,000,000, with $14,000,000 of this assessment coming from the U. S. Steel Fairless Works. "Once the Falls twp. part of Levittown is occupied," he said, "I think the people will determine the right course. You'd be crazy to incorporate unless Levitt will build for you, and bring in enough industry."

"I shall continue to advise the Falls twp. School Board to take no action until the Levittown people move into the area and vote on it," Bair emphasized that he was speaking as regional superintendent, and was not a spokesman for the Falls twp. or Pennsylvania Joint School Boards.

Representatives of Tullytown, Falls twp. and Bristol twp. School Boards spoke at the meeting, and assured the Levittown residents that the children will be taken care of. A problem caused by lack of decision on the incorporation question was cited in the townships.

Speaking for the Bristol twp. School directors, Clarence Young, school board secretary, cited the John Fitch School under construction in Levittown. He said children in other parts of the township must also be provided with schools. "We are going to meet the obligation of the rest of the township before Levittown," he said. Young said the school directors have held 90 meetings this year.

Tullytown schools now have 209 pupils in six elementary grades, the Association was told in a letter written by William Conca, president of the School Board. The board has been studying school sites, finances and plans, and hopes to have a new school in the first half of 1954, he said. Lack of classrooms is Tullytown's chief problem, he said.

A new Tullytown school in Levittown is being delayed pending a decision in common pleas court over the changing of borough and township boundary lines in the new development.

Pennsylvania district schools now have 2,831 pupils, it was announced in a letter from Bair, with 1,480 in Falls twp., 858 in Lower Makefield twp. and 870 in Yardley. Every two weeks there are 80 to 100 more pupils. From 250 to 300 of them live in Levittown.

Dr. Charles Boehm, Bucks County school superintendent, hailed the use of "master blocks" in Levittown for locating schools in the center of neighborhoods.

"Long before you made your $500 down payment on your homes the school boards were planning for you," he said. "We never told people we'd be in a position to give full day sessions."

Dr. Boehm said the Levittown houses are assessed too low, and discourage bankers from making school loans. He cited recent bills passed by the State Legislature that provide school revenues.

Tullytown will be the richest district of Levittown, Dr. Boehm said, if the shopping center stores are properly assessed.

LEVITTOWN, Nov. 26 — Two of Mrs. Catherine McLoughlin's nine children live with her at 38 Primrose lane. Seven others live in different parts of New Jersey. Mrs. McLoughlin moved here from Seaside Park, N. J., with a son, Joseph H. McLoughlin, a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Newell and Mrs. Newell's daughter, Kathy.

A tenth child of Mrs. McLoughlin, Harry J., was killed in action during World War II, while serving aboard a Navy ship in the South Pacific. He and 19 other crew members died when their ship was struck by fragments of another American vessel which was exploded by a Japanese suicide team.

Joseph served in the Army during the war. He is now employed at the Trenton, N. J., State House, as senior secretary in the motor vehicle department. Mrs. Newell has been an invalid for several years. Her daughter, Kathy, a ninth-grade pupil in Pennsylvania High School became 14 years old Oct. 17, six days after the family moved here.

One of Mrs. McLoughlin's other sons, Clinton, is serving in the Army in the Security Guard in Germany. He expects to return home March 1.

In addition to Kathy, Mrs. McLoughlin has 10 other grandchildren, including a granddaughter whose birth at St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, had just been announced when we interviewed her.

After the loss of her son, Harry, in the war, Mrs. McLoughlin began to take an interest in oil painting. She did some landscape scenes at Seaside Park and more recently did some paintings of flowers, in modern style, for her Levittown living room.

There are two dogs in the household, Misty, a French poodle and Butch a boxer. They are under the care of Joseph McLoughlin, who has always been interested in dogs. Another son, John W. McLoughlin,

Facts on Incorporation Proposal Available—Bair

Schools Superintendent Is Speaker at Levittown Civic Ass'n Parley

By Staff Reporter

LEVITTOWN, Nov. 26 — The "pro and con" facts on the proposed incorporation of Levittown are already available, Medill Bair, regional superintendent of Pennsylvania Schools, told a special meeting of the Levittown Civic Association last night in the Tullytown fire station.

He made the statement after Alex Polett, associated with a public relations firm serving, Levitt & Sons, Inc., said a survey being made by the Institute of Local and State Government of the University of Pennsylvania, to be completed in two to five months, "will show all aspects of incorporation."

"The facts are already there," Bair said. "It's just a matter of a little arithmetic, and anyone of you can do it." Information that is already available, he said, includes the cost of building schools, the number of school-age children in Levittown, and the cost of educating them. He said the latter figure is currently $294 per pupil per year in Falls twp.

He cited tax valuations in his township, which total $21,000,000, with $14,000,000 of this assessment coming from the U. S. Steel Fairless Works. "Once the Falls twp. part of Levittown is occupied," he said, "I think the people will determine the right course. You'd be crazy to incorporate unless Levitt will build for you, and bring in enough industry."

"I shall continue to advise the Falls twp. School Board to take no action until the Levittown people move into the area and vote on it," Bair emphasized.

Bair was speaking as regional superintendent, and was not a spokesman for the Falls twp. or Pennsylvania Joint School Boards.

Representatives of Tullytown, Falls twp. and Bristol twp. School Boards spoke at the meeting, and assured the Levittown residents that the children will be taken care of. A problem caused by lack of decision on the incorporation question was cited in the townships.

Speaking for the Bristol twp. School directors, Clarence Young, school board secretary, cited the John Fitch School under construction in Levittown. He said children in other parts of the township must also be provided with schools. "We are going to meet the obligation of the rest of the township before Levittown," he said. Young said the school directors have held 99 meetings this year.

The board has been studying school sites, finances and plans, and hopes to have a new school in the first half of 1954, he said. Lack of classrooms is Tullytown's chief problem, he said.

A new Tullytown school in Levittown is being delayed pending a decision in common pleas court over the changing of borough and township boundary lines in the new development.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Horne, formerly of Phila., are now at home on Stonybrook drive.

Arriving from Trenton, N. J., Mrs. Herman Colucco is living on Stream Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Thorsby, of New Jersey, who are now ready to take up duties in their first mission field, showed slides of New Guinea where they have been assigned. The Thorsbys will be the first missionaries in one section of New Guinea. As the films were projected, Mr. Thorsby explained them.

The Rev. Rowland Carlson, pastor of the hostess church, spoke to the group on "The Nature of the Christian Religion." He dealt with the various approaches to God in the Christian religion. He enlarged upon the personal approach of man in the Protestant way, dealing with the manner in which man stands before God according to his own faith.

The dinner was prepared and served by members of Harriman Woman's Society of Christian Service.

ers as not typical of eastern homes, she says she was surprised to discover row houses in this part of the country. They don't exist in Nebraska, Mrs. Barnes says, and there are few duplex homes there.

The Barnes' have two little girls, Kathy, three and Linda, 22 months old.

Dr. Boehm said the Levittown houses are assessed too low, and discourage bankers from making school loans. He cited recent bills passed by the State Legislature that provide school revenues.

Tullytown will be the richest district of Levittown, Dr. Boehm said, if the shopping center stores are properly assessed.

The Thorsbys will be the first missionaries in one section of New Guinea. As the films were projected, Mr. Thorsby explained them.

The Rev. Rowland Carlson, pastor of the hostess church, spoke to the group on "The Nature of the Christian Religion." He dealt with the various approaches to God in the Christian religion. He enlarged upon the personal approach of man in the Protestant way, dealing with the manner in which man stands before God according to his own faith.

The dinner was prepared and served by members of Harriman Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Bristol High to Clash With Morrisville IX In Turkey Day Classic

Bristol High and Morrisville High will clash in their 25th annual game tomorrow morning on the local gridiron. Opening kickoff is slated for 10:30 o'clock.

Comparing the season's record of the teams, Morrisville is a slight favorite over the Warriors, with its record of six wins and four losses. Bristol has two wins and six losses. In Lower Bucks County League competition, the Bulldogs have won four and lost one and still has a mathematical chance of tying Neshaminy for the crown. Bristol has won two and lost three.

Coach Gordon Davies, of Morrisville, has selected Eddie Kohler and Frank Gater as captains for the Turkey Day classic. Coach Davies has been coach of the Bulldogs since 1946 and his record against Bristol teams is two victories, three losses, and a tie. He is assisted in his coaching duties by Alex McDonald and Dick Lee.

Outstanding in the Morrisville backfield are Tommy Trout and "Chuck" Galambos. The latter does the passing for the team while Trout is principally a line smasher, having scored 11 touchdowns this season. "Eddie" Kohler, converted end who is now in the backfield, has been hampered with an injury since the start of the season.

Gater and Jack Haston are the outstanding Bulldog linemen, although plenty of action is expected from Dave Talone who tips the scales at 250 pounds.

Coach Anthony D'Angelo's team beat Morrisville last season, 19-13, to top the Lower Bucks crown. Coach D'Angelo is hoping for a repeat despite the fact that his lads have only captured two wins this season. The local lads are out to win this one as they know the fans forgive their season's mistakes if they take over the Morrisville eleven. Before coming to Bristol, D'Angelo was a junior high coach at Morrisville.

Coach D'Angelo will most likely use Fred Kornstedt and Dave Lewis at the end positions, both are seniors. At the tackle positions will be Tom Brescia, a sophomore who goes at 214 pounds, and Ed Charlton, one of the best defensive linemen in Lower Bucks. The guard posts will go to Jim McCullen and Bobby Rago. The pivot playing will be done by Frank Manzo and Russ Johnson, both juniors. In the backfield will be Gene Dugan, Sid Taylor, Larry Cohen, and Ronnie Ciambella.

During the season, Bristol defeated Council Rock and Southampton, and lost to Hatboro, Neshaminy, Bensalem, Pennsbury, Burlington, and Hamilton. Morrisville scored triumphs over Bensalem, Pennsbury, Upper Merion, Jenkintown, Council Rock and Southampton. It lost to Neshaminy, East Stroudsburg, Hatboro, and Hamilton.

Delhaas is Victor Over Council Rock 25-0 on Home Field

The Delhaas 135-lb. team finished its 1952 gridiron with a clean slate yesterday as it trounced Council Rock's 135-lb. team, 25-0, on the winner's field.

Michael, right-end, scored two of the Delhaas touchdowns, one on a blocked kick and the other on a run of 45 yards after picking up a fumble.

Santa Maria scored the first touchdown on a 15-yard run while Campbell's pass to Rudy, covering 60 yards, manufactured the second TD. Matussek scored the lone extra point on a line play.

Lineups:

architects of Eisenhower's pre-election campaign strategy, has figured prominently in post election speculation as to the identity of the new Postmaster General. It was announced that he will resign his Republican Party chairmanship before taking his cabinet post.

Mrs. Hobby, while appointed to a position which technically does not have cabinet rank, has been asked to attend cabinet meetings because of her "vitally important position" in government and social affairs. Mrs. Priest, active in the Republican Party's women's division will succeed another woman Georgia Neese Clark as Treasurer.

Neshaminy High Will Meet Bensalem Twp. On Playwicki Field

LANGHORNE, Nov. 26 — Neshaminy High will try for its ninth straight win and the Lower Bucks County championship tomorrow morning as it meets Bensalem Township High in the annual Thanksgiving Day tilt on Playwicki field. Kickoff is scheduled for 10 o'clock.

Neshaminy has bowled over all opposition since losing its opening game to Amble. The Redskins are leading the Lower Bucks circuit with five wins and no defeats and the worst it can receive is a deadlock for the crown as Morrisville, in second place, has won four and lost one.

Should Bensalem beat Coach Harry Franks' team and Morrisville beat Bristol, then the loop will be tied. Bensalem can go into a deadlock for third place or possibly second place by beating Neshaminy as its season record in league competition is three wins and two losses.

Neshaminy has two fine ends in Furman Lex and Al Hofmann. Both of these wingmen have been on the receiving end of passes thrown mostly by Lou Maurer all season. In addition both are fine defensive players with Hofmann doing the kicking for the team. Coach Franks is depending largely on this trio to pull his team through. Ken Kauffman, Ray Brodie and Gary Latham will be the other starting backs while the other linemen will most likely be Lanthier, Cloak, Peale, Hessler, and Steve Latham.

Coach Marlon VanHorn will most likely use Harry Crowthens, Bill Daley, Al Parker, and George Walker in the backfield with Al Dominini and Bob Frantz as ends; Bob Vansant and Norman Berger, tackles; Dick Scott and Tom Vickers, guards; and Frank Harper, center.

Middletown Township

for possible erection of a new junior high school on the site of the high school now under construction at Janney. Ransom questioned the township board's participation in the project because of the Levittown situation.

"If Levitt comes into Middletown township," he said, "and it is very probable that he will, the assessed valuation of Middletown township will jump from the present four-million to 14-million dollars, and Middletown would be able to run its own schools with its own six members," stated Ransom. He credited the figures he used to a survey he said was made of the area by the Institute of State and Local Government of the University of Pennsylvania.

"We don't like the way the voting is done here," he said. He continued that "We are not satisfied with the whole situation." "The voting of the boroughs can carry a motion," he explained. "Seventy per cent of the cost is paid by Lower Southampton and Middletown townships," he concluded. "Levitt is also thinking of making a city of his own," said John Paul, president, and a member of the Lower Southampton board, "and the picture could very well change the other way."

Ransom commented that the contract under which the districts operated jointly was not set up in proportion to each district's ability to pay.

"The contract has to be re-written," stated Philip Lewis.

George Parker, president of the Lower Southampton board, explained that chlorinators have been placed at the wells of the new Lower Southampton school and the Siles school after a report was received from Theodore Staudenmayer, district sanitarian, that the water from each of the wells was contaminated.

The report was received on a Friday night explained Parker. Before school opened the following Monday, he said, the chlorinators had been placed at the wells. Reason for contamination at the Lower Southampton school has not been determined he said. A broken pump line, thought to have been the cause of contamination at Siles, has been repaired, he stated. The further report of the district sanitarian is awaited, he added.

Staudenmayer was unavailable for comment this morning on the extent of contamination, but board members last night said that their interpretation of the reports was that contamination was slight, and with the chlorinators in place they felt the wells could not be considered to be contaminated. A report by the firm placing the units stated that the Lower Southampton school well showed no sign of contamination even before the chlorinator was attached, stated Parker.

Dr. Heckman reported steel erected at the site at Janney. Further negotiations are in progress, Heckman amplified, to erect steel in the gym area before March 15, possibly by Feb. 1, and in that case Block "A" and "C" of the school could be expected to be completed before July 31.

George Zarr, administrative assistant, reported the proposal for a basement classroom in the Feasterville school and a request for a new basement drain and entrance-door canopies. Suggested repairs to the boilers of the Parkland school were discussed and the matter referred back to the committee for handling of repairs. The Pennell building, reported Zarr, needed painting but he recommended it be done in the spring.

At the Siles school the cesspool problem was referred back to the committee for further study following which, it was directed, the matter be taken up with Dr. Heckman. Philip Lewis reported that the Authority had hired a certified public accountant to keep a record of the books.

Return of pre-paid architects fees to individual boards was approved. A contract with the Philadelphia Electric Company certifying maximum electricity use at the new school was ordered signed so that installation of electrical equipment could proceed on schedule.

The State Joint School Building Authority is conducting negotiations for a 20-million dollar loan from the Public School Employees Retirement Board, stated Dr. Heckman. At present said Dr. Heckman the retirement board is asking three and one-half per cent interest and the question is whether the authority is willing to pay that interest.

"If we want our children on full day sessions I think we ought to make an application to the State School Building Authority at this time," said Heckman. There is no financial obligation on the part of the school district in filing the ap-of their acting that way because a rumor went around, there is only one word that I can think of—childish."

Abolition of the merit increase system was suggested by Dr. Heckman as was the question of additional time off for teachers in case of death in the family. Tompste Baxter, elementary school director, spoke of the removal of 24 students from the Lower Southampton to the Siles School in order to break up large sections. Janice Roberts was hired to teach the new class that will be formed. Elsie Inglesfield will replace Joseph Botzer as fourth grade teacher at the Lower Southampton school.

"The whole attitude of doing nothing doesn't make sense and is definitely a negation of responsibility. The physical schools must be there. They know it."

If it is true that the township is doing nothing toward building schools for Levittown," he said, "then I'd suggest that Falls twp. at the same time stop collection of school taxes during that time. We've done as much as we humanly could."

Levitt said that as a municipality, Levittown would take over the schools, and assume the obligation of paying off the bonds, with no financial loss to the township.

"I think we have moved a little too quickly for Falls twp.," Levitt said.

Levittown, Long Island, is not incorporated, he said, "and the most active opponent of incorporation was myself." He explained that in Long Island, municipal services, such as complete fire and police protection, health service and park departments, were provided by the existing political units, but those services are not available here.

"We're interested that Levittown as planned, be the finest community that man's ingenuity can develop in the field," Levitt said. "If incorporation is an advantage here, we will be for incorporation."

"It all boils down to a question of economics," he said. "Does it pay or doesn't it?" Explaining the discussion of incorporation here, Levitt said, "There's no secret about it. When we first got here we wondered whether to incorporate or not. We got a horseback opinion that we could not."

"A few weeks ago, at a meeting with a group representing Levittown, a member said he thought it would be a good thing to incorporate. We agreed to look into it and found that there was machinery for incorporation."

"We approached the municipalities involved, and they were noncommittal. Now we find that everybody has an opinion."

Discussing the financing of a borough or city, Levitt said, "The real revenue comes from commercial property, and not industrial property."

"We will have perhaps the most elaborate business district of its size." In addition to the large shopping center under construction at Route 13 and Oxford Valley-Tullytown rd., he said, "there will be three to five little shopping centers."

As a borough Levittown would "inherit" the Hunter Manufacturing Co., which is surrounded, and receive its taxes, he said, but added, "the shopping centers will pay 20 to 30 times what the Hunter Co. pays." If incorporated, Levittown would collect some $1,600,000 for its schools in real estate transfer taxes, he said. The coming 250-acre industrial area, he cited as another source of revenue.

Bridge Opening Scheduled For Next Monday Afternoon

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 26 — The new $6,250,000 Trenton-Morrisville Bridge is scheduled to be opened to traffic next Monday at 2 p. m. it was learned today. The surprise opening comes after a top bridge spokesman stated only last week that the bridge was not expected to be open before the first of the year because of work still to be completed on the span.

The new bridge and approaches, designed primarily to relieve traffic congestion in the Trenton and Morrisville areas, required a little over two years to build. The overall cost includes the commission's new and modern administration building in Morrisville.

From 2 p. m. until midnight Monday, all traffic will be carried free. One minute after midnight, tolls ranging from 15 cents for passenger cars, motorcycles and other vehicles to 40 cents for trucks of three-axle or more over seven and a half tons gross rated capacity will be charged.

In less than one year from the time interdenominational services began in this new community, a new church has been organized; and in less than eight months after community Methodist services began here the new Methodist church has been formed. Cranbrook Club Coupe in Plymouth's 1953 Line

Dash and distinction are combined in the flowing lines of the Cranbrook Club Coupe, one of nine outstanding body styles in the new 1953 line of fine Plymouth cars. The new styling is combined with increased power and improved performance to make it more than ever the big car value in the low-priced field. Power has been increased to 100 horsepower with 7.1 to 1 compression ratio for finer response and efficiency. New suspension gives virtually gyroscopic stability under varying road conditions. Engine and rear axle relocation, coupled with easier riding, angle-mounted rear springs, provide the utmost in comfort. Plymouth engineers have designed more headroom, legroom and hip and shoulder space into the 1953 models.

Neshaminy High Will Meet Bensalem Twp. On Playwick Field

LANGHORNE, Nov. 26 — Neshaminy High will try for its ninth straight win and the Lower Bucks County championship tomorrow morning as it meets Bensalem Township High in the annual Thanksgiving Day tilt on Playwick field. Kickoff is scheduled for 10 o'clock.

Neshaminy has bowled over all opposition since losing its opening game to Ambler. The Redskins are leading the Lower Bucks circuit with five wins and no defeats and the worst it can receive is a deadlock for the crown as Morrisville, in second place, has won four and lost one.

Should Bensalem beat Coach Harry Franks' team and Morrisville beat Bristol, then the loop will be tied. Bensalem can go into a deadlock for third place or possibly second place by beating Neshaminy as its season record in league competition is three wins and two losses.

Neshaminy has two fine ends in Furman Lex and Al Hofmann. Both of these wingmen have been on the receiving end of passes thrown mostly by Lou Maurer all season. In addition both are fine defensive players with Hofmann doing the kicking for the team. Coach Franks is depending largely on this trio to pull his team through. Ken Kauffman, Ray Brodie and Gary Latham will be the other starting backs while the other linemen will most likely be Launther, Cloak, Peale, Hessler, and Steve Latham.

Coach Marion VanHorn will most likely use Harry Crowthers, Bill Daley, Al Parker, and George Walker in the backfield with Al Dominiani and Bob Frantz as ends; Bob Vansant and Norman Berger, tackles; Dick Scott and Tom Vickers, guards; and Frank Harper, center.

for possible erection of a new junior high school on the site of the high school now under construction at Janney. Ransom questioned the township board's participation in the project because of the Levittown situation.

"If Levitt comes into Middletown township," he said, "and it is very probable that he will, the assessed valuation of Middletown township will jump from the present four-million to 14-million dollars, and Middletown would be able to run its own schools with its own six members," stated Ransom. He credited the figures he used to a survey he said was made of the area by the Institute of State and Local Government of the University of Pennsylvania.

"We don't like the way the voting is done here," he said. He continued that "We are not satisfied with the whole situation." "The voting of the boroughs can carry a motion," he explained. "Seventy per cent of the cost is paid by Lower Southampton and Middletown townships," he concluded.

"Levitt is also thinking of making a city of his own," said John Paul, president, and a member of the Lower Southampton board, "and the picture could very well change the other way."

Ransom commented that the contract under which the districts operated jointly was not set up in proportion to each district's ability to pay.

"The contract has to be re-written," stated Philip Lewis.

George Parker, president of the Lower Southampton board, explained that chlorinators have been placed at the wells of the new Lower Southampton school and the Siles school after a report was received from Theodore Staudenmayer, district sanitarian, that the water from each of the wells was contaminated.

The report was received on a Friday night explained Parker. Before school opened the following Monday, he said, the chlorinators had been placed at the wells. Reason for contamination at the Lower Southampton school has not been determined he said. A broken pump line, thought to have been the cause of contamination at Siles, has been repaired, he stated. The further report of the district sanitarian is awaited, he added.

Staudenmayer was unavailable for comment this morning on the extent of contamination, but board members last night said that their interpretation of the reports was that contamination was slight, and with the chlorinators in place they felt the wells could not be considered to be contaminated. A report by the firm placing the units stated that the Lower Southampton school well showed no sign of contamination even before the chlorinator was attached, stated Parker.

Dr. Heckman reported steel erected at the site at Janney. Further negotiations are in progress, Heckman amplified, to erect steel in the gym area before March 15, possibly by Feb. 1, and in that case Block "A" and "C" of the school could be expected to be completed before July 31.

George Zarr, administrative assistant, reported the proposal for a basement classroom in the Feasterville school and a request for a new basement drain and entrance-door canopies. Suggested repairs to the boilers of the Parkland school were discussed and the matter referred back to the committee for handling of repairs. The Pennell building, reported Zarr, needed pointing but he recommended it be done in the spring.

At the Siles school the cesspool problem was referred back to the committee for further study following which, it was directed, the matter be taken up with Dr. Heckman. Philip Lewis reported that the Authority had hired a certified public accountant to keep a record of the books.

Return of pre-paid architects fees to individual boards was approved. A contract with the Philadelphia Electric Company certifying maximum electricity use at the new school was ordered signed so that installation of electrical equipment could proceed on schedule.

The State Joint School Building Authority is conducting negotiations for a 20-million dollar loan from the Public School Employees Retirement Board, stated Dr. Heckman. At present said Dr. Heckman the retirement board is asking three and one-half per cent interest and the question is whether the authority is willing to pay that interest.

"If we want our children on full day sessions I think we ought to make an application to the State School Building Authority at this time," said Heckman. There is no financial obligation on the part of the school district in filing the application.

plication he said. He was ordered to proceed with the application.

Abolition of the merit increase system was suggested by Dr. Heckman as was the question of additional time off for teachers in case of death in the family. Tompste Baxter, elementary school director, spoke of the removal of 24 students from the Lower Southampton to the Siles School in order to break up large sections. Janice Roberts was hired to teach the new class that will be formed. Elsie Ingelfield will replace Joseph Botzer as fourth grade teacher at the Lower Southampton school.

Levittown Will Have

of their acting that way because a rumor went around, there is only one word that I can think of—childish."

"The whole attitude of doing nothing doesn't make sense and is definitely a negation of responsibility. The physical schools must be there. They know it."

If it is true that the township is doing nothing toward building schools for Levittown," he said, "then I'd suggest that Falls twp. at the same time stop collection of school taxes during that time. We've done as much as we humanly could."

Levitt said that as a municipality, Levittown would take over the schools, and assume the obligation of paying off the bonds, with no financial loss to the township.

"I think we have moved a little too quickly for Falls twp.," Levitt said.

Levittown, Long Island, is not incorporated, he said, "and the most active opponent of incorporation was myself." He explained that in Long Island, municipal services, such as complete fire and police protection, health service and park departments, were provided by the existing political units, but those services are not available here.

"We're interested that Levittown as planned, be the finest community that man's ingenuity can develop in the field," Levitt said. "If incorporation is an advantage here, we will be for incorporation."

"It all boils down to a question of economics," he said. "Does it pay or doesn't it?"

Explaining the discussion of incorporation here, Levitt said, "There's no secret about it. When we first got here we wondered whether to incorporate or not. We got a horseback opinion that we could not."

"A few weeks ago, at a meeting with a group representing Levittown, a member said he thought it would be a good thing to incorporate. We agreed to look into it and found that there was machinery for incorporation."

"We approached the municipalities involved, and they were non-committal. Now we find that everybody has an opinion."

Discussing the financing of a borough or city, Levitt said, "The real revenue comes from commercial property, and not industrial property."

"We will have perhaps the most elaborate business district of its size." In addition to the large shopping center under construction at Route 13 and Oxford Valley-Tullytown rd., he said, "there will be three to five little shopping centers."

As a borough Levittown would "inherit" the Hunter Manufacturing Co., which is surrounded, and receive its taxes, he said, but added, "The shopping centers will pay 20 to 30 times what the Hunter Co. pays." If incorporated, Levittown would collect some $1,600,000 for its schools in real estate transfer taxes, he said. The coming 250-acre industrial area, he cited as another source of revenue.

Bridge Opening Scheduled For Next Monday Afternoon

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 26 — The new $6,250,000 Trenton-Morrisville Bridge is scheduled to be opened to traffic next Monday at 2 p. m. it was learned today. The surprise opening comes after a top bridge spokesman stated only last week that the bridge was not expected to be open before the first of the year because of work still to be completed on the span.

The new bridge and approaches, designed primarily to relieve traffic congestion in the Trenton and Morrisville areas, required a little over two years to build. The overall cost includes the commission's new and modern administration building in Morrisville.

From 2 p. m. until midnight Monday, all traffic will be carried free. One minute after midnight, tolls ranging from 15 cents for passenger cars, motorcycles and other vehicles to 40 cents for trucks of three-axle or more over seven and a half tons gross rated capacity will be charged.

In less than one year from the time interdenominational services began in this new community, a new church has been organized; and in less than eight months after community Methodist services began here the new Methodist church has been formed. "This is regarded as a record," the pastor states.

The Rev. Mr. Pavlidis arrived here in May to serve the Methodists in the area.

Cranbrook Club Coupe in Plymouth's 1953 Line

Dash and distinction are combined in the flowing lines of the Cranbrook Club Coupe, one of nine outstanding body styles in the new 1953 line of fine Plymouth cars. The new styling is combined with increased power and improved performance to make it more than ever the big car value in the low-priced field. Power has been increased to 100 horsepower with 7.1 to 1 compression ratio for finer response and efficiency. New suspension gives virtually gyroscopic stability under varying road conditions. Engine and rear axle reduction, coupled with easier riding, angle-mounted rear springs, provide the utmost in comfort. Plymouth engineers have designed more headroom, legroom and hip and shoulder space into the 1953 models.

THE BIG, NEW GRANTS

OPENS with a price-crashing 2-day

STARTING FRIDAY, NOV. 28

VALUES HAVE MADE GRANTS GROW FOR OVER 46 YEARS

Mr. W. T. Grant opened his first store in 1906 with a simple formula for success: "Let us see how much we can give the customers," he said, "not how much we can get." Tremendous values drew huge crowds to his little store in Lynn, Mass. The high quality of his low-priced merchandise kept them coming back. Friends in a nearby town urged him to open another Grant store, which he did. Success was immediate and others soon followed. The W. T. Grant Company's growth was steady year after year—and today there are nearly 500 Grant stores from coast to coast. The answer for Grants growth can be summed up in one word—VALUES. Mr. Grants success formula has never changed. Values have and are pledged to continue to make the W. T. Grant Company grow in Bristol and across the nation.

Grants Investment in Bristol is an expression of confidence in this Pennsylvania community. While we envision a wonderful future for the city, we are not unmindful of the grand acceptance given Grants in the past. Starting FRIDAY we will express our appreciation to you in the best way we know . . . by slashing our famous low prices even lower for our storewide, money-saving Opening Sale . . . celebrating the opening of Grants bigger, better store in Bristol. We urge you to attend if you are interested in pocketing important savings for yourself, your family and home.
